

The mortal mind of a human is manipulable.

Session nr 6 of July 17, 2024 – English translation - Original French

Location: Mezzaverde in Belgium

Response to a remark by Aristotle concerning the use of the morontia mind of the soul following Oscar's story in session nr 5 – 2024.

Aristotle:

Concerning session nr 5-2024, it is the use of the morontia mind that strongly caught my attention in Oscar's story. Not so long ago, I asked myself how I could use my morontia mind instead of my primary or mortal mind. An answer is given concerning the functioning of the two minds which would ultimately function in a synchronized way.

Remarques from Wivine :

There are certainly different ways to approach the subject concerning the connection of the human mind of the physical body and the morontia mind of the soul. Here is one.

The morontia mind that grows will in some way become larger and have more spiritual knowledge and wisdom than the human or mortal mind that is very close to the brain.

During the evolution of the soul, the morontia mind is regularly adapted to the acquired spiritual level of the soul. This allows connections to be established, as evolution progresses, between the human mind and the morontia mind. The same phenomenon occurs later between the soul mind and the Cosmic or Divine mind of your Thought Adjuster.

The physical body has 7 chakras but there are still 3 more above the head which systematically open with the development of the soul. One will influence the other, allowing in time the complete connection of the three minds (human - soul - God Fragment or Thought Adjuster).

You can see in the drawing below (found on the internet for illustration) that there are several portals or chakras above chakra 8 (human mind), which will open as your soul rises to connect with each other.

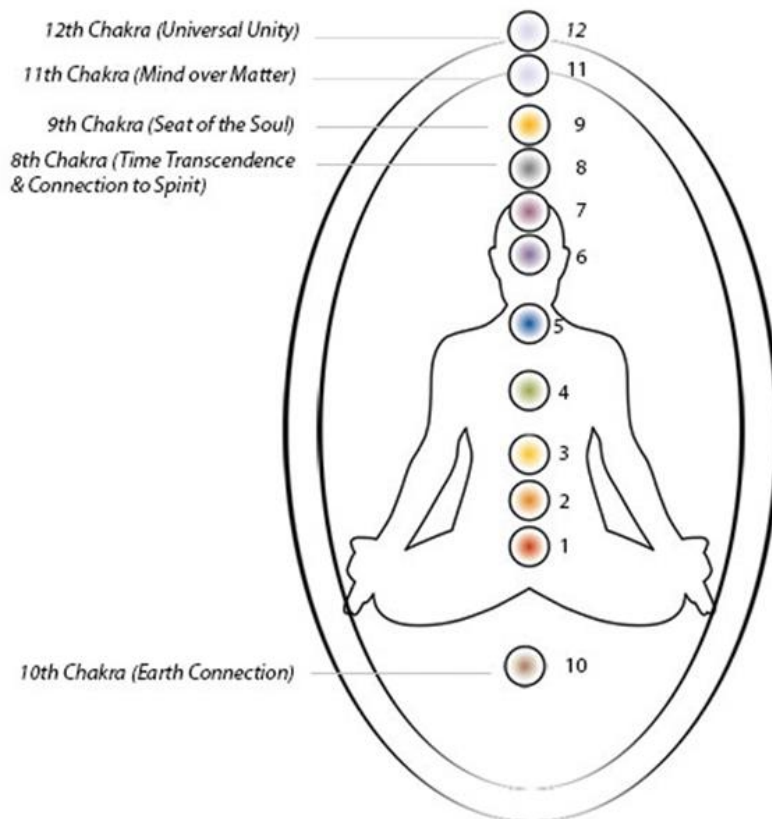

1) The first connection is chakra 7 with chakra 8. This is the connection between the electromagnetic brain and the mortal or human mind.

2) The second connection is that of chakra 8 with chakra 9 or the mortal mind with the morontia mind of the soul.

3) The third connection is that of chakra 9 which will connect to chakras 11 and 12. That is to say that a connection will be made between the morontia mind of your soul and the cosmic mind and/or the Divine mind of your Thought Adjuster.

This drawing is not intended to push you to do a study of everything that is on the internet about chakras because that will put you in immense confusion. This is knowledge from the East (Hinduism – Buddhism – etc.) – often misunderstood and misused in the West. If you are interested I advise you to go into it with your inner guidance in order to find your way in this bush full of contradictions. An excellent exercise by the way.

The day when your mortal mind, your morontia mind, your divine mind will be on a line - the Spirit - the soul - the body - and totally connected to each other - you will be the God-Man - the Divinized Man. The intermediate stages are comparable to various stages of Illumination.

As you progress you will realize that sometimes you use your morontia mind instead of your mortal mind. It is a rather difficult impression to describe and it is probably different for everyone. But we can realize it when we are attentive and conscious of it. This does not mean that we understand immediately what is happening. First the experiences then the explanations provided that we ask ourselves questions.

At a given moment your morontia mind will be able to take control of your human mind. If you are aware of this possibility, if you are wondering how to consciously and continually use this morontia mind, you can give permission to your soul to allow your morontia mind to take control of your mortal mind. First write your statement on paper and then speak it aloud with conviction.

The same thing can be done later with your Thought Adjuster.

The Thought Adjuster is not found only in the hearts of men to suggest the path of wisdom to the human mind.

The Thought Adjuster generates the soul and constantly contributes to its growth. Without a Thought Adjuster no soul embryo could develop to attain eternal life. Humans who lose their lives on earth and whose soul was not yet ready to fuse with their Thought Adjuster, continue their ascension on the Mansion Worlds with their Adjuster. The Adjuster who then works only on the morontia mind of the soul because the mortal mind will have disappeared with the physical body.

The day you feel ready - you prepare a solemn declaration on paper to read aloud, in which you declare that you allow your God Fragment to take control of the morontia mind of your soul and your mortal mind.

These two declarations will not bring forth miracles, but will facilitate the connections and your soul development. Knowing that your Thought Adjuster has no right to influence or control your human mind and He will never do such a thing, unless you give him full permission to do so..

If your love for God and your faith in God are not sufficient to support your declaration—nothing will happen. If you do it out of calculation—to get some benefit—no matter what—or to take a shorter route—it will not work. Nothing is hidden from God. Keep this in mind.

For parents: Children who pass away before they have received a Thought Adjuster are cared for on a morontia world specifically designed for them. As soon as one of their parents arrive at the First Mansion World after death, the child will be reunited with that parent and will continue its soul development by receiving a Thought Adjuster at the appropriate time.

These children will later fuse with a Fragment of Mother Spirit of Nebadon and remain in the local universe because they have not received enough live experience on a material world, or just a little, to continue an ascension to Paradise.

The human mind is connected to the electro-magnetic brain of the physical body and the morontia mind of the soul is higher up. The two minds barely touch each other if the soul is not yet very evolved.

Take into account that the mortal mind that is connected to the brain is manipulable by the individual or by others. It can be distorted, deformed, made ugly and bad by the selfish and perverse choices of the individual, but also by negative mind control exercised by others or by the pressure of a violent and criminal environment.

Just as it can be made Noble, Beautiful, True, Good, Great when we know God and let ourselves be illuminated and instructed by His Fragment that lives in us.

End.
